Fifty Dollars Reward.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

Mr. PEYTON,

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

For the prevention and cure o BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, cheeks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders
Consumptions
Lowness of spirits
Loss of appetite
Impurity of blood
Hysteric affection
Inward weaknesses and debility
Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Indigestion
Melancholy
Gout in the stomach
Pains in the limbs
Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, strains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes from the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Hahn's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the numerous importance and respectability of which fully justify every article of this advertisement.

SELECTED.

GENIUS.

What tho' to thee the dazzled millions bow,
And to thy posthumous merit bend them low;
Tho' unto thee the monarch looks with awe,
And thou, at thy flaming car, dost nations draw;
Yet ah! unseen behind thee fly
Corroding anguish, soul-subduing pain,
And discontent that clouds the fairest sky,
A melancholy train.

CANDOR.

"Give me th' avow'd, th' erect, the manly foe,
Bold I can meet, perhaps may turn his blow!
But of all plagues, good Heav'n thy wrath can send,
Save, save, oh! save me from the candid friend:"

There is a certain thing called Candor. Some pretend that it is impartiality of judgment; others, more severe, say that it is a malicious inclination to slander, couched under an appearance of benevolence, and therefore ironically called Candor. Be this as it will, certain it is, that no hing can be more impartial, or less bigotted in favor of its objects of praise than this soi distante virtue: for though it begins its remarks with all the flowers of panegyric, yet that no one may suppose the objects to be immaculate and perfect, and therefore despair of envy, it ends in the enumeration of vices, or defects by way of counterpoise. Let us suppose this Candor giving an account of some great characters; it would perhaps speak in this wise:

Writers of Antiquity.

Homer, a great poet and a blind beggar.
Demosthenes, a man of amazing eloquence and cowardice.
Sappho, an elegant poetess and harlot.
Æsop, a philosopher and lump of deformity.
Herodotus, a beautiful historian and great liar.
Thucydides, an authentic historian, who did not understand grammar.
Aristotle, the prodigy of philosophy, who wrote without understanding himself.
Virgil, a beautiful poet, and abominable flatterer.
Horace, an excellent lyric and satiric poet, who indulged in all the vices he satirized.
Cicero, a philosopher and turn-coat.

Generals.

Alexander, a great conquerer and drunkard.
Duke of Vendome, a hero and sluggard.
Charles of Sweden, a prodigy of bravery and folly.
Marlborough, a great general and fop.

English Writers.

Shakspeare, the first of poets and a deer stealer.
Otway, a man of genius and an egregious fool.
Johnson, the philosopher and brute.
Porson, a wonderful and elegant scholar and a blackguard.

Scripture Characters.

Amos, the prophet and cowboy,
Paul, the zealous apostle, three feet high.

Thus does Candor murder characters by first mentioning excellencies, then totally destroying the favorable impression by naming some great vice or defect, though perhaps the only one, and even invisible to any eye but the eye of Candor. Heaven defend me from the candid!

From an English paper.

THE NUTMEG.

It is a fact which ought to be known to all housewives, that if they begin to grate a nutmeg at the stalk end, it will prove hollow throughout; whereas the same nutmeg, grated from the other end, would have proved solid and sound to the last. The centre of a nutmeg, consists of a number of fibres issuing from the stalk and its continuation, through the centre of the fruit, the other ends of which fibres, though closely surrounded and pressed by the fruit, do not adhere to it; when the stalk end is grated away, these fibres having lost their hold, gradually drop out, and the nutmeg appears hollow, and as more is grated away, others drop out in succession, and the hollow continues through the whole nut. By beginning at the contrary end, which may be readily done by thrusting a pin therein to ascertain the hardest end, the fibres abovementioned are grated off at their core end, with the surrounding fruit, and do not drop out and cause a hole. Another circumstance worth recollection is, that in consequence of the great value of the oil of nutmegs, it is often extracted from the nuts that are exposed to sale, by which they are rendered of very little value. To ascertain the quality of nutmegs, force a pin into them, and if good, however dry they may appear, the oil will be seen coming out all around the pin, from the compression occasioned in the surrounding parts.

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 29.

IV. CANTO OF CHILDE HAROLD.

Reflecting on Bonaparte, lord Byron is led to take a glance at the United States, between the conduct of which and France in their respective revolutionary struggles, he draws a contrast no less favorable to our country than creditable to his own candor.

"Can tyrants but by tyrants conquered be,
And freedom find no champion and no child,
Such as Columbia saw arise when she
Sprung forth a Pallas, armed and undefiled?
Or must such mind be nourished in the wild,
Deep in the unpruned forest, 'midst the roar
Of cataracts, where nursing nature smiled
On infant Washington? Has earth no more
Such seeds within her breast, or Europe no such shore?

"But France got drunk with blood to vomit crime,
And fatal have her saturnalia been,
To freedom's cause, in every age and clime;
Because the deadly days which we have seen,
And vile ambition, that built up between
Man and his hopes an adamantine wall,
And the base pageant last upon the scene,
Are grown the pretext for the eternal thrall,
Which nips life's tree, and dooms man's worst—his second fall.

"Yet freedom! yet thy banner torn, but flying,
Streams like the thunder-storm against the wind,
Thy trumpet voice, though broken now and dying,
The loudest still the tempest leaves behind;
Thy tree hath lost its blossoms, and the rind,
Chopp'd by the axe, looks rough and little worth,
But the sap lasts—and still the seed we find
Sown deep, even in the bosom of the north;
So shall a better spring less bitter fruit bring forth.

The sublime ruins, and beautiful remains of ancient architecture in Rome, derive from the poetry of lord Byron that lustre and glow of coloring which genius of the highest kind alone has the competence to bestow upon the objects it pourtrays. Adverting to the circus where the games were once celebrated, and the gladiators fought, he says:

"But here, where murder breathed her bloody steam,
And here where buzzing nations choked the ways,
And roar'd or murmur'd like a mountain stream,
Dashing or winding as its torrent strays;
Here, where the Roman millions blame or praise,
Was death or life—the play things of a crowd,
My voice sounds much—and fall the stars' faint rays
On the Arena void—seats crush'd—walls bow'd—
And galleries, where my steps seem echoes strangely loud.

"A ruin—yet what ruin! from its mass,
Walls, palaces, half-cities have been rear'd;
Yet oft the enormous skeleton ye pass,
And marvel where the spoil could have appeared.
Hath it been plundered, or but cleared?
Alas, developed, opens the decay,
When the colossal fabric's form is neared:
It will not bear the brightness of the day,
Which streams too much on all years, man have reft away.

"But when the rising moon begins to climb
Its topmost arch, and gently pauses there;
When the stars twinkle through the loops of time,
And the low night-breeze waves along the air,
The garland forest, which the grey walls wear,
Like laurels on the bold first Cæsar's head;
When the light shines serene, but doth not glare,
Then in this magic circle raise the dead:
Heroes have trod this spot—'tis on their dust you tread.

"While stands the Coliseum, Rome shall stand,
When falls the Coliseum, Rome shall fall;
*And when Rome falls—the world. From our own land,
Thus spake the pilgrims o'er this mighty wall
In Saxon times, which we are want to call
Ancient; and these three mortal things are still
On their foundations, and unaltered all;
Rome and her ruin past redemption's skill,
The world the same wide den—of thieves, or what ye will.

"Simple, erect, severe, austere, sublime—
Shrine of all saints, and temple of all Gods,
From Jove to Jesus—spared and blest by time;
Looking tranquility, while falls or nods
Arch, empire, each thing round thee, and man plods
His way through thorns and ashes—glorious dome!
Shalt thou not last? Time's scythe and tyrants' rods
Shiver upon thee—sanctuary and home
Of art and piety—pantheon!—Pride of Rome!

"Relic of noblest days, and noblest arts!
Despoiled yet perfect, with thy circle spreads,
A holiness appealing to all hearts—
To art a model; and to him who treads
Rome for the sake of ages, glory sheds
Her light through thy sole aperture; to those
Who worship, here are altars for their beads;
And they who feel for genius may repose
Their eyes on honored forms, whose busts around them close."

Here the poet takes occasion to introduce his readers to a view of the dungeon where the long celebrated and oft-told story of 'the Roman daughter,' who nourished her imprisoned father with a share of the food bestowed by nature for the nourishment of her infant child, is said to have taken place.

"There is a dungeon, in whose deep drear light,
What do I gaze on? Nothing. Look again,
Two forms are slowly shadowed on my sight—
Two insulated phantoms of the brain:
It is not so; I see them full and plain—
An old man, and a female young and fair,
Fresh as a nursing mother, in whose vein
The blood is nectar:—but what doth she there,
With her unmantled neck, and bosom white and bare?

"Full swells the deep, pure fountain of young life,
Where on the heart and from the heart we took
Our first and sweetest nurture, when the wife,
Blest into mother, in the innocent look,
Or even the piping cry of lips that brook
No pain and small suspense, a joy perceives
Man knows not, when from out its cradled nook,
She sees her little bud put forth its leaves—
What may the fruit be yet?—I know not—Cain was Eve's.

"But here youth offers to old age the food,
The milk of his own gift:—it is her sire,
To whom she renders back the debt of blood
Born with her birth. No; he shall not expire,
While in those warm and lovely veins the fire
Of health and holy feeling can provide
Great nature's Nile, whose deep stream rises higher
Than Egypt's river: from that gentle side,
Drink, drink and live, old man! heaven's realm holds no such tide.

"The starry fable of a milky way,
Has not thy story's purity: it is
A constellation of a sweeter ray,
And sacred nature triumphs more in this
Reverse of her decree, than in the abyss
Where sparkle distant worlds:—Oh! holiest nurse!
No drop of that clear stream, its way shall miss
To thy sire's heart, replenishing its source
With life, as our freed souls rejoin the universe."

After giving a stanza to Adrian's pillar, he conducts his readers to that first of edifices, Saint Peter's, of which he conveys a magnificent idea in seven stanzas, which will appear in the next paper.

PUBLIC LANDS.

The President has given notice by proclamation, that an extensive sale of public lands will take place at Cahada, Alabama territory, on the first Monday of January next, to continue three weeks.—A sale also takes place, at Franklin, Missouri territory, to commence on the said first Monday of January. [New-York Columbian.

INTERESTING PUBLICATION.

Mr. Benjamin O. Tyler, who lately published an elegant edition of the Declaration of Independence, has announced his intention of publishing a fac simile copy of the first commission given by Congress to Gen. Washington—also, the articles of confederation of the thirteen United States, with fac similes of the signatures of all that signed those instruments, with several other national publications. [Ibid.

SINGULAR OCCURRENCE.

Died, in Hector, last week, Mrs.—Gardner, in an advanced state of pregnancy.—Being irritated at a neighbor's child, for some trifling offence, she declared she would whip the little devil to death, and accordingly started to go to its parent's house, about the distance of 15 rods. She had proceeded about half way, when she fell suddenly to the ground. Her family ran to her assistance and found her speechless; they conveyed her home when she expired in about ten minutes, evidently from the fit of anger. [Ovid Gazette.

THEATRICAL.

We learn with pleasure that Mr. Caldwell's new theatre in Petersburgh is in rapid progress, and that in its construction it is inferior to none on the continent. At the latest, Mr. C. intends opening it on the 1st of October, for which purpose many performers of talent and respectability are engaged, particularly Mrs. Aldis, for Tragedy, a lady we are told, who has held a first rank in the English theatres, and allowed to be inferior to none in Lady Macbeth, Elvira, Mrs. Beverly, &c. [Raleigh pap.

The following interesting circular from Wm. Shaler, Esq. has been received at New-York by the schooner Fayette, from Gibraltar.

(CIRCULAR.)

SIR—I have the honor to inform you, that in reply to a requisition made by me on the Algerine government, I have received the most positive assurances, that during the existence of pestilence in Algiers, instructions will be given to the commanders of their cruizers not to board any American merchant vessel, on any pretext whatsoever; and I request, that for the information of our fellow citizens, whom the same may concern, you will give to this circular that publicity within your district, which the case requires; and that you will immediately inform me, or the naval forces of the U. States stationed in the Mediterranean, of any departure from this arrangement on the part of the Algerines which may come to your knowledge, in order that the same may be corrected forthwith.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, Sir, your most ob't serv't,

(Signed) WM. SHALER,
Consul General of the U. S. in Barbary.

To the Consul of the U. S. at Gibraltar.

From the National Intelligencer, of July 27.

The President of the United States has, we understand, decided, that Pensacola, and the other Spanish posts, which have been taken by Gen. Jackson, in the Floridas, shall be restored to the Spanish authority; but with a requisition, that the King of Spain shall, hereafter, keep such a force in those colonies, as shall enable him to execute, with fidelity, the 5th article of the treaty between the United States and Spain. That article, so far as it affects this subject, is in the following words:

"The two high contracting parties shall, by all the means in their power, maintain peace and harmony among the several Indian nations who inhabit the country adjacent to the lines and rivers, which, by the preceding articles, form the boundaries of the two Floridas—and, the better to obtain this effect, both parties oblige themselves, expressly, to restrain, by force, all hostilities on the part of the Indian nations living within their boundary—so that Spain will not suffer her Indians to attack the citizens of the United States, nor the Indians inhabiting their territory—nor will the United States permit these last mentioned Indians to commence hostilities against the subjects of his Catholic Majesty, or his Indians, in any manner whatever."

On the strict execution of this article, on the part of Spain, it is understood that the President rigorously insists—and that it was the failure to fulfil it, which produced the necessity of crossing the Spanish boundary, during the present war with the Seminole Indians.

These tribes occupy the lands on each side of the line between the United States and Florida—much the greater part of them living within the limits of the king of Spain. They are neither citizens of the United States, nor subjects of the king of Spain.—They owe no allegiance to the laws of either power. They cannot, therefore, be tried for treason on account of their levying war against either nation, within whose limits they dwell. They are the owners of the soil which they occupy—hold at least a qualified sovereignity over it, and exercise, on all occasions, the right of making war and peace. To this purpose they are sovereign within the country which they possess—to this purpose the country is their country—and that country may and must, of necessity, become the legitimate seat of war, if the war cannot be otherwise terminated.

This consideration becomes the stronger when it is remembered, that it was owing to the acknowledged incompetency of Spain to fulfil the stipulation of her treaty with us, by restraining the hostilities of the Seminoles, by force, that the United States were compelled to take up arms in their own defence. Yet such was the delicacy of our government towards Spain, that the first order issued to the general commanding in that quarter, expressly forbade him to cross the Spanish line. This inhibition was repeated by a second order. But as it was apparent, that driving the Indians beyond the limits of the United States, was doing nothing effectual to extinguish the war, since in falling back within the limits of Florida, they were still at home, with all the means of incursion and annoyance which they possessed at the commencement of hostilities, a third order was issued, which authorised the American general, if the Indians should present themselves in body, beyond the line, to cross it and attack them. Shortly after issuing this order, a massacre was committed by the Indians, which demonstrated that no alternatives were left for the United States, but to leave our frontier exposed to the mercy of the savages, or to carry the war into Florida, and thus to do, for Spain, what she confessed herself unable to do for herself, by terminating by force, the hostilities of these savages.—A fourth order was therefore issued, to this effect, to the American General—but by the same order he was expressly commanded, if the Indians should take refuge under a Spanish fort, not to attack them in that situation, but to report the case to the Department of War. Such has been the delicacy observed by the United States towards Spain: and no subsequent order, it is understood, has been issued, to enlarge the authority of the American general.

In attacking the posts of St. Mark and Pensacola, with the fort of Barrancas, gen. Jackson, it is understood, acted on facts, which were, for the first time, brought to his knowledge, on the immediate theatre of war; facts which, in his estimation, implicated the Spanish authorities in that quarter, as the instigators and auxiliaries of the war; and he took these measures on his own responsibility, merely. That his operations proceeded from motives of the purest patriotism, and from his conviction, that, in seizing and holding those posts, he was justified by the necessity of the case, and was advancing the best interests of his country, the character of General Jackson forbids a doubt. Of the important facts alleged by him, satisfactory proof, it is understood, has been already furnished to the President, and proof of the other facts is confidently expected. It is difficult to admit the belief that acts, so totally regardless of the amicable relations between Spain and the United States, so directly repugnant to the stipulation of the treaty above quoted, and, in themselves, so hostile and even cruel, will be avowed and adopted by the king of Spain. We trust that they were the mere unauthorised acts of his agents. But, should they, contrary to all rational expectation, be so avowed and adopted by that sovereign, there can be little doubt that the means of annoying us from that quarter will ere long be taken from him, by the decision of the competent authority, to be restored no more.

In the mean time, as Congress, only, have the power, under our constitution, of declaring war, and had made no such declaration against Spain, it is understood that the President does not conceive himself authorized to retain the Spanish posts, inasmuch as such retention would be an act of war. It is on this ground, we understand, that the resolution has been taken to restore the posts, and to demand from the King of Spain the punishment of those officers, whose improper conduct led to their seizure.

The President no doubt sees, in common with his countrymen, the great advantages which the United States would derive from the entire possession of the Floridas; but, confessedly great as these advantages would be, he is not willing to gain them but by the sanction of an act of congress. To have retained these posts, under present circumstances, would certainly have had the eclat of being a strong measure: but we hope never to see a president of the U. States disposed to be stronger than the constitution of his country; for that is the palladium of interests far more sacred, and of infinitely higher import to the general cause of human liberty, than any acquisition of territory, however vast or advantageous.

Notwithstanding this unexpected collision in the Floridas, we trust that the relations of amity between the two nations will be preserved; nor can we abandon the hope, that their differences may yet be settled on fair and honorable conditions. We may even indulge the hope that the incidents which have grown out of the Seminole war, however adverse their tendency may have appeared to be, may contribute essentially to produce that happy result. Spain must see, and has practically confessed, her incompetency to maintain her authority in the Floridas, against the Seminoles and foreign adventurers; and we hope she will see that it will be much wiser for her to cede those provinces at once, than to attempt to hold them on the impossible condition of fulfilling her treaty with us, or on the condition now brought home to her, by experience, of subjecting herself to perpetual collisions, and eventual losses, which she may now avoid with ease and honor to herself.

James H. Blake is appointed, by the president, to be register of wills for the county of Washington, in this district, vice John Hewitt, deceased.

DANGEROUS FALL.

As several persons were going up into the municipal court room, in the new court house in this town, yesterday morning, one who had been leaning against the railing, fell head-first from the steps of the third story, and struck on the granite pavement below, which forms the lower floor—thus falling at least 40 or 50 feet.

An incident happened at the fire on Saturday evening last, which may tend to raise still higher the value of Mr. Reed's services in detecting rogues, already so highly appreciated, in the public estimation. Five or six persons who had lately been released from the State-Prison, whose intentions were suspected not to be good, were observed by Mr. Reed to be hovering about the fire, when he took the precaution to screen himself behind a gentleman whose extraordinary dimensions served very well for the purpose. One of the villains came pretty near, and accosting an old gentleman who appeared to be a stranger, directed his attention to a particular part of the fire, remarkable for its vivid appearance; and while he was looking, contrived to pick his pocket, and made off. Reed now left his concealment, interrogated the old gentleman as to his loss, and then pursued and overtook the fellow, and had him committed.

LATEST FROM DUBLIN.

By the arrival at this port last evening of the brig Climax, capt. Merchant, in 41 days from Dublin, papers of that place to June 5, have been received by Mr. Topliff—but contain no news.

Dublin, June 4.—Wheat and oats have experienced a considerable fall in price—the former near 3s and the latter 2s per barrel.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal says, "Our trade with China is of so important a nature as to claim Parliamentary notice.—This we are warranted in asserting, by some official documents, "ordered by the House of Commons to be printed." Among the number we find a paper entitled "An account of the ships, with the amount of their tonnage, which have entered inwards and cleared outwards, at the several ports of Ireland to and from the East Indies, for ten years, ending the 5th of Jan. 1818, distinguishing each year and each port."

This is a very ostentatious piece of heading as the printers style it. The "ships with the amount of their tonnage which have entered inwards, &c. &c. at the several ports of Ireland, for ten years distinguishing each year and port!!" After this the reader should expect at least a half a column of items and specifications. What, however, follows in the official return? We shall annex the document verbatim:—

"In the year ending the 5th January an American vessel, burthen 399 tons, touched at Cork, bound to Canton, in China—which was the only vessel that entered inwards or cleared outwards, from or to the East Indies, for the ten years ending the 5th of January, 1818.

We yesterday received Gibraltar papers to May 30, from which we extract the following articles:

Gibraltar, May 31.

His majesty's ship Tagus, arrived in this Bay on the 17th inst. from Alexandria, Egypt, having on board two sons of the emperor of Morocco, with their suite, returning from a pilgrimage to Mecca. The Tagus sailed this day for Tangiers, where their highnesses will disembark.

Captain Fitsclarence, aid de camp to the governor general of India, came passenger in the Tagus from Alexandria. He is the bearer of despatches from the marquis of Hastings.

May 30.

Official advices from Algiers, to the 12th inst. were received by his majesty's frigate Spartan. The deaths at Algiers amounted to from 50 to 80 daily, and those of Oran exceeds 100 daily. The disease had extended itself westward into the territory of Morocco, and was particularly fatal to a tribe of natives called Berkiris, inhabiting a tract of land at the foot, and to the eastward of Mount Atlas.

It appears that the new Dey of Algiers was conducting himself with great moderation.

From the Boston Centinel, July 22.

The frigate Guerriere, com. Macdonough' who is to convey Mr. Campbell, and his family to Russia, has not yet sailed, but probably will this day. The delay, we learn, has been unavoidable.

Mr. Burrows, of Connecticut, goes to the North, in the Guerriere, as a special messenger to Mr. Russell, our minister in Sweden. The dispatches, of which he is the bearer, probably relate to the treaty pending between the two nations.

On Friday his excellency Mr. Campbell, was entertained by com. Hull, at his residence at the navy yard; on Saturday he dined with the hon. Mr. Otis; on Monday with the hon. Mr. Gray, and yesterday with his excellency gov. Brooks. Every mark of personal respect and attention has been paid to the minister and his lady.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

We yesterday received London files to the 5th of June. The papers began to teem with advertisements, addresses, promises and professions, to the "dear people," from candidates wishing to represent them in parliament, which was to be dissolved the 8th of June. It was elected Nov. 12, 1812.

The prisoners condemned to death for the murder of Fualdes, had petitioned for a respite.

The Duke of Wellington was putting the frontier of the Netherlands in the best state possible, previous to the evacuation of France by the Cautionary army.

Lord Cochrane had formally declined being a candidate for Westminster; being bound to S. America in a steam-boat.

M. Cambaceres, it is said, had received a conditional pardon, and would return to France.

Every political aspect throughout Europe indicated a long continuance of Peace, and the lands promised Plenty.

At the anniversary dinner of the British and Foreign Bible Society, in London, Mr. Rush, the American Minister, moved, that the thanks of the Society be given to Lord Teinmouth, their President; and he took occasion to compliment the society on the exertions it had made in the promotion of the cause of Christianity, and concluded by saying, "May the canvass of the two countries spread more extensively over the world the riches of Christian Benevolence, than they do the riches of commerce, and henceforth may that be their only strife."

An English sailor, in a mad panic, was reported to have made his way from an Indiaman at St. Helena, to Buonaparte's residence—to have tarried with him two days, and return undiscovered.

Piano-Fortes and Organs.

THE subscriber, who carries on the manufacture of these instruments in N. York, is now in Alexandria, where he will remain a short time, during which he will attend to repair, regulate the action and improve their tones and musical effects.—A specimen of his work and abilities may be examined in the store second door below the Mechanics' Bank, King street, where he offers for sale two of his Piano-Fortes at the New-York prices—one of them an elegant upright grand, of a full bodied mellow tone and brilliant touch—the other is of the horizontal sextagon form, highly finished, with extra additional keys. He warrants them perfectly sound, and of the first quality.—He will allow in exchange a fair price for old pianos or organs, being such as he approves.—He also has for sale a few fine toned old violins and elegant bows, and concert flutes.—He is perfectly acquainted with the harpsichord construction, and offers to put them in complete order.

Orders left at the store, or at Mr. Abercrombi's, cabinet-maker, or at Capt. Nelson's, King street, will be promptly attended to on his return to New-York.

50 Dollars Reward

RAN away from the subscriber on Saturday night the 27th ult, a Negro man by the name of JACOB THOMPSON, aged 22 or 23, nearly 6 feet high, very black, and rather a down look when spoken to—he is very apt to put one hand up to his chin when answering questions. He is a very submissive orderly fellow—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trowsers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys and papers he may have on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia. Valuable Land for Sale.

THE subscriber wishes to sell a tract of land containing 558 acres, situate in Nangemoy, Charles county, Maryland.—This land lies compact on the Potomac, adjoining the farm of William D. Harrison, Esq. about 2 miles above Maryland Point, is well adapted to the growth of wheat, corn, and tobacco, and might be made a desirable farm. Also, another tract, containing 201 acres, about half a mile from the former, and adjoining the lands of Col. John Tayloe.—A further description of this property is deemed unnecessary, as those wishing to purchase will, no doubt, view the premises. If not sold before at private, they will be offered at public sale in the town of Port-Tobacco, on Monday the 10th day of August next. Terms one-third of the purchase money on the day of sale; the remainder in equal payments of 12 or 18 months, when a sufficient deed will be given. DANIEL JENIFER,

The owner is desired to come and take them away, otherwise they will be sold as the law directs, for their prison fees, &c. THO. A. DAVIS,

To the friends of Humanity.

AN aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwieler, P. Valuable Land for Sale.

I WILL sell the farm on which I reside, known by the name of Indian Town, and containing about one thousand acres. It is situated in Charles Co. Md. on Nanjemoy Creek near its mouth, about seven miles from Port Tobacco, and forty from Washington City. Few farms combine greater advantages than this; added to a fertility of soil equal to any in the country, it binds on the creek nearly two miles, which affords great facility in getting its productions to market, and precludes the necessity of much fencing; the creek affords in their seasons, fish and wild fowl in abundance.—The soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of Tobacco, Wheat and Indian Corn, and the plaister has been found from experience to act on it admirably. There are now about 100 acres in clover, some of which is well set. The improvements are a new two story dwelling house 16 by 40 feet, kitchen, barn, stables, carriage house, with every other necessary out house, the whole in good repair. There is also a wind-mill in good order, the toll of which affords meal enough for the support of the farm.—Also, one other tract containing 115 acres in the forest, about three miles distant, entirely in the wood. There is a well of excellent water in the yard, and several springs on different parts of the farm. The premises may be viewed, and the terms known by application to the subscriber. Should the above farm be unsold on the 1st of Sept. next, I will lease it for a term of years.

Plaister Land.

The subscriber offers for sale a FARM of 430 acres, being part of the tract whereon he resides, in Fauquier county, Va. He would also dispose of a lot of 50 acres, the whole of which is in timber, and is firstrate tobacco and meadow land. On this lot has been erected well built saw mill, contiguous to which at the confluence of Broad and Mill runs) is a most valuable scite for a merchant mill. No property is better worth the attention of a person wishing to engage in such business. THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. Robert Perry versus
James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.
THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
